

CLEMSON
COOPERATIVE EXTENSION

Training as a

Charleston Master Naturalist

has been successfully completed in Spring 2011 by

Scott Moore

The Clemson University Cooperative Extension Service and Charleston Master Naturalists award this certificate in recognition that the aforementioned has completed training on the low country's natural resources and natural history, including the identification of plants, animals and other organisms in coastal South Carolina.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Karen C. Hall".

Karen C. Hall, Ph.D.
South Carolina Master Naturalist Program

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Keith McCullough".

Keith McCullough
Charleston County Park and Recreation Commission